My phone started ringing the very next day!

We were struggling to make ends meet when the economy slowed down. In the past we had solely relied on word of mouth referrals to keep our business running. We are lucky to have found Bryan and Stokely when we did.

As the president and owner of a small Heating and Air Conditioning business, my time is stretched very thin. When our customers need us, they need us that day, and that leaves very little time for me to take care of the sales and marketing side of the business.

When I first heard about Bryan and Stokely and their “Client Attraction” marketing as they call it, I assumed it was a cookie-cutter approach that I see all the time on the internet. I couldn’t have been more wrong.

We met one day so that they could find out more about my business. They were asking all sorts of questions, some of which I had never really thought about for my own business. A few days later, seeing these guys paid attention to detail in my specific business, I decided to give them a try. After all, my business was struggling to meet payroll, and we needed to do something very soon.

Within a week, these guys had chiseled out an easy to follow plan for my business. We put the plan in place, and my phone literally started ringing the very next day! I was impressed. The old marketing and sales I had done in the past took weeks or months to deliver, and even then, the leads we had coming in were mediocre. These guys had very good leads calling in starting the very next day.

Stokely and Bryan did an excellent job of not only helping my business stay alive during the recession, but also growing my client base at the same time!

Sincerely,

Scott Brooks
